BroadSign offers resellers demo software of their SaaS (Software As A Service) digital signage solutions.

Resellers need to register with the reseller program at this link below but there's no other obligation, says BroadSign.

This program is free of charge and is not a commitment to buy. BroadSign wanted a fast effective way for the reseller to try their software in their own time and this is the way they chose.

Once you register, BroadSign has training overviews and support. Here's what you can get:

- New sign up process for resellers that will automatically give them access to the BroadSign reseller portal full of documents and downloads
- 5x not for resale FREE demo player software for resellers to use in-house or on laptop for client demo's
- A new content channel for resellers to use with the Free NFR players has news weather video flash PowerPoint and pics this will download as a content channel for the reseller to use as part of their demos
- Training videos and focused support free of charge.
- 1x Web banner for resellers to use on home page as link to micro site information.
