

Arthur Holm, a brand from Albiral in Spain, presents its new X Generation of dynamic monitors at Lightwindows, a technology gallery in the center of Barcelona (very closet o Gaudi's Sagrada Familia) on May 19th.

Visitors will be able to see the dispays while enjoying music and Spanish tapas. Lightwindows has more than 1000 sq. meters of exposition where architects and designers can see the latest techfor meeting and conference rooms, residential and hotel applications.

Arthur Holm's New Dynamic X moving screens are built in anodised aluminium with a black edged protection and decorative glass.

Arthur Holm's AH17D216A has been selected for the Delta Awards, the 30-year old Spanish awards that recognize industrial design and manufacturing quality.

Go Arthur Holm

New Generation of Retractable Displays for Furniture

Written by Bob Snyder 17. 05. 2011

Go Lightwindows, tech demo center