

AOpen[®]

Forum Europe 2012

After two successful editions of AOpen Forum Europe, AOpen's 3rd edition will be on Monday 30 January in the Dorint Hotel Amsterdam-Airport in Amsterdam.

From its legacy in embedded computing, AOpen makes digital signage solutions especially a unique small-form-factor media player called Digital Engine.

This event brings together AOpen partners, as well as other distributors, alliances, system integrators and resellers. You can see new products and developments from the AOpen eco system in an exhibition area. Attendees learn from case studies and gain insights during an Ask the expert session.

With free registration for integrators, during the AOpen Forum, you will hear all about developments in digital signage and narrowcasting.

You can read our article about the last AOpen Forum Europe here.

Bernie Tsai, who founded AOpen Inc. in 1996 and is the mind behind the transformation from AOpen Computer Components to AOpen Solutions, will open the Forum with a talk about the market and AOpen strategy for the future.

His insight is worth the visit by itself, as Tsai has one of the best backgrounds in the business. Oh, yes... and you can hear the Daily DOOH guy, too.
