

Streamit will showcase their next generation of in-store audio receivers at ISE2013. The Lisa and Lisa LCD
, says the company, are “more powerful and priced aggressively.” The Lisa is also a lot smaller.

Professional internet radio receivers, the Lisa series stream as well as store-and-forward. With configurability and easy remote management, the new product design for the Lisa allows Streamit to reduce the production costs resulting in improved price/performance for the in-store audio devices.

Lisa has a very compact design (width 9.8 cm x height 2.3 cm x depth 8.2 cm) and is compatible with older Streamit radios/technology

Samples of the Lisa series are available and the production models expected in Q1 of 2013.
